Hello Birdie!

Col. Constance Moore, Army Nurse and Commandant of the Graduate School of Nursing (center), gets promoted to colonel by retired Army Brig. Gen. Anna Mae Hays (left), and Col. Lenore Enzel, AN, Deputy Commander of Nursing/Patient Services, William Beaumont Army Medical Center, Fort Bliss, Texas. Colonel Moore has been assigned to the Uniformed Services University of the Health Sciences since October 2004 and said she was extremely proud to have General Hays and Colonel Enzel at her ceremony, because they've both meant a great deal to her throughout her career. General Hays is the first woman in the history of the military to be promoted to the rank of general officer and Colonel Enzel has been a mentor to Colonel Moore over the years.
